Member Registration Pro Tips

Zoo Camp Registration starts Monday, January 12th at 7:30am. To make sure you're ready, follow these tips.

Before member registration starts:

- Best Option: As soon as possible, log into your account to check to make sure you can see your membership in your account.
 - All members receive an account when they become members. If you have never logged into your account or don't remember your login details, follow the directions on the log in page for current members.
 - If you can't find your membership in your account, please contact zkcontactcenter@zooknoxville.org. They can help you get your membership connected so you can access early registration and receive your discount.
 - Once your membership is connected your early access and discount will be applied automatically after you log in.
- Alternate Option: Watch for an email that will have special member instructions.

After member registration starts:

- Log into your account.
 - If your membership is connected to your account, when you choose a camp during the member-only registration period the registration button will appear at the bottom of the page.
 - If you are logged in and don't see a registration button after choosing a camp, or your discount isn't applied once you get to your cart:
 - check your email for a special member email with instructions, or
 - contact zkcontactcenter@zooknoxville.org.
